Congrats on baby number 4, Ayda and Robbie

Ayda and Robbie Williams celebrated Valentine's Day in a very special way as they announced the birth of their fourth child.

"On this Valentine's Day, we would like to celebrate love in the most awesome way… Beau Benedict Enthoven Williams," Ayda wrote in an Instagram post, sharing the couple's good news with her followers.

"As with Coco, he is biologically ours, but born via our same incredible surrogate. We are so blessed to have our healthy son safely in our arms and are officially complete as a family."
