

Slyther-in to something more comfortable!

Female Harry Potter fans, have you ever wanted to cast a spell over your other half in the bedroom? Whether it's for the bedroom or just for fun, becoming the sexiest member of house Gryffindor is now a reality thanks to the latest in new range of underwear that's fun to wear. Who needs Hermione Grainger and Ginny Weasley when you can make your own magic thanks to this raunchy bedroom costume?

Launched by Yandy.com, the Harry Potter 'Magic Student Fantasy Lingerie Set' looks set to be a hit among fans of the franchise. The set compromises of a sheer grey lace crop top with a white collar, a sheer, burgundy high-waisted panty with a grey lace trim, a cheeky cut back, removable burgundy and gold suspenders, and a matching striped tie (glasses not included). As of now, the set is only available in the Gryffindor colours of Harry's house and there are no plans as yet to include Ravenclaw, Hufflepuff or Slytherin, indicating that romance between houses is prohibited. However, if you're a fan of wholesome Cho Chang or Bellatrix Lestrange, we won't tell.

The Potter set is part of a fantasy section in the classy lingerie site which includes sexy superheroes and red hot princesses and is available for pre-order now. Fittingly the set was launched on July 31st, Harry's birthday.

The set is hoping to prove hugely popular with fans and non-fans of the franchise, flying out the door faster than the speediest of Quidditch players. It is advised to get your order in quick so you can say 'Expelliarmus' to your lover's clothes and ensure the night ends with 'Mischief Managed!'

Adriana Lima Gets Lost in Translation ... I'm Not Quitting Victoria's Secret!

Adriana Lima is not hanging up her VS angel wings anytime soon, despite recently saying she won't be taking off her clothes anymore for an "empty cause."

Lima, who's Brazilian, posted a lengthy message about turning down a sexy video shoot recently, saying, "I am tired of the impositions, we 'as woman' can't be continuing living in a world with such superficial values, it's not fair for us, beyond fair, it's physically and mentally not healthy ..." she ranted.

We're told that post was ONLY referencing the video shoot, and NOT her work with VS. While many interpreted it as her quitting her Angel gig ... it just ain't so. We're told Adriana thinks Victoria's Secret actually empowers women to be confident. The "empty cause" was the video shoot unrelated to the lingerie line.

Lima, who walked in the VS fashion show in Shanghai last month, had said she wants to stay with VS until she walks in her 20th show with them – and we're told that's still the plan. Rest easy, guys.

Victoria Beckham launches plus sized range

Victoria Beckham's new Target collection will not only be affordable, but also suitable for women of all shapes and sizes too. It has been revealed that the line will be available up to a size 24, when it finally goes on sale on 9 April. The fashion designer's main line only goes up to a size 14 so this instantly makes her designs more accessible; not to mention the fact that the prices are more high street than high fashion, with the most expensive piece in the collection costing £56.

Victoria spoke to Refinery29 about her desire to make the range available to a wider audience, explaining: "I want to design for women no matter their budget, age or size. I want to empower women and girls, and make them feel like the best versions of themselves. The fact I can offer plus size is really exciting, it's a first for me, and it's something that I'm proud of."

The highly anticipated Target collaboration also features childrenswear, and Victoria has said that a lot of the designs were inspired by her five-year-old daughter Harper. "I didn't show her until I could physically show her the dresses," Victoria said of the collection. "She came to my studio and she tried everything on and she loved it. She helped advise me with the sticker books, and the colouring books. I said Harper, 'As a little girl what do you like that we do together?' And she pulled out her favourite colouring books and sticker books. She was involved in that part and she's excited to get her hands on the full collection."

The mother-of-four also said that the new affordable collection was a way of celebrating her fashion line VVB, "which is the sister category to my ready-to-wear collection. And VVB has always been about celebrating Harper," she said, adding: "When I was pregnant with Harper that's when I started working on VVB and it was always the other side to my wardrobe: fun, conversational prints, fun energising colours, pieces that are very easy to wear. With this collection I feel that I've been very honest: This is about me, this is about Harper, the relationship that we have together."
